Fall 2017 Issue

President's Message

We hope you will join us for our annual Harvest Auction on Saturday, October 21 at the Rhinebeck Town Hall from 12-4:30pm. This is always a fun day.

Over the past year we have had the pleasure of welcoming three new board members, Rick Stickle, Frank Gaglio and Brin McGee. Rick, Brin and Frank have helped us as volunteers in the past and have now joined us as full time board members. I'm so excited and glad to welcome them. We have chosen to profile them in our last newsletter of 2017.

As a reminder, we have become a member of AmazonSmile. Each time you shop at Amazon, a pop up window appears asking you to select a charity, you can now select the Collection of Rhinebeck History and Amazon will donate 5% of your purchase to us at no cost to you. Visit AmazonSmile's website (<http://smile.amazon.com/ch/14-1772002>) to select us as your charity of choice. So the next time you shop on Amazon, think of us.

We hope you will join us in preserving Rhinebeck's past!

Annual Harvest Auction-Saturday, October 21,2017-Rhinebeck Town Hall

This annual fundraising event, sponsored by the Museum of Rhinebeck History and the Chancellor Livingston Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, will once again feature both a Silent and a Live Auction. The day's festivities will begin at noon with the Silent Auction.

It will have something of interest for everyone-- handmade items, gift baskets and gift certificates from local merchants and restaurants, vases, jewelry, antiques and more!

One example of an auction item, see our website for more pictures.

The Live Auction will begin at 3:00. Frank Gaglio of Barn Star Productions, producer of the Rhinebeck Antique Shows and Museum Board member will be our talented and knowledgeable Auctioneer. Come and bid on- a glass china cabinet, Rockingham pottery canisters, Queen Anne tilt-top table, green cut glass vase and many more intriguing objects.

If you or anyone you know can donate quality items for our Live or Silent Auction, please email the Museum at museumofrhinebeckhistory@gmail.com.

Mark your calendars and join us on October 21 for a fun, interesting and exciting day to help support local historic preservation.

Welcome Rick Stickle!

Rick was born and raised in Rhinebeck and graduated from Rhinebeck Central School in 1969. He earned a BA degree from Colgate University in 1973 majoring in Geology and minoring in Education and a Master's degree in Education from the University of Massachusetts in 1987. Rick taught Earth Science and Astronomy for 34 years, 29 of which were in Barre, Massachusetts, where he and his wife of 47 years, Donna (Kallop), raised 3 children-Matthew, Erin, and Seth. In September, 2007, they moved to Clermont, N.Y. to be closer to family.

Rick has a lifelong interest in archaeology, local history and genealogy. In 1987, he participated in the Sturbridge Village Bixby house dig in Barre and in 2015 the Bard College Parsonage dig in Germantown.

His mother, Janice MacMillan Stickle, is a former museum board member, whom he helped occasionally at the Museum. When he was asked to be a Board member, Rick, like his mother, felt it was a very worthwhile endeavor to help preserve Rhinebeck history.

Welcome Brinn McGee!

Brin Magee is a relative newcomer to Rhinebeck. Always a "city girl", she moved to the area full time in 2009.

Art and design have always been her life's focus. Though starting as a painter, she transitioned into interior design, graduating from Parsons School of Design and The New School. Her beginning design career was as a designer of colleges and corporations, but over the years, it has changed into residential design. However, she always approaches all projects through the eyes of a painter!

Brin looks forward to giving back to her new home and community by joining the Board of the Museum of Rhinebeck History.

Welcome Frank Gaglio!

Frank Gaglio was introduced to the antiques business through a summer job that turned into a lifetime career and profession spanning forty two years.

Frank is a founding member of the Antiques Dealers Association of America (ADA) and currently sits on the board of the Professional Show Managers Association (PSMA).

After graduating from college with a degree in marketing, Frank began working for an antiques importer traveling to Yugoslavia and Romania three times a year exploring the remote countryside buying truckloads of antiques from the locals and increasing his knowledge of foreign material culture as well.

Frank's other accomplishments include, lecturing on American painted furniture, antique weathervanes and whirligigs, mounting special exhibits including The American Equestrian, Stars in American Folk Art, My Favorite Things and many others.

Frank is also president of Barn Star Productions, incorporated in 1994, as a high end antiques show management company creating fundraisers for several non-profits including The Greenwich Historical Society, Greenwich, CT, Hyland House Museum in Guilford, CT, Wilton Historical Society, Wilton, CT, and Newtown Historical Society, Newtown, CT. Locally, his company produces the Antiques at Rhinebeck Show and Sale at the Dutchess County Fairgrounds Memorial Day Weekend and Columbus Day Weekend.

Frank brings valuable experience and knowledge to the museum and we are happy to have his help.
